
DEATH GARMENTS OF COMEAU SHOWN TO JURY AT TRIAL OF BOYS

DR. LEARY AS STAR WITNESS

Deaths and those of DeLoane and Saurbrey.

Killian charged that Captain Albee, the U. S. Ammunition of the Boston Police, in obtaining a confession from DeLoane, did so only after the boy had been put through a "spurious" grilling by the police, led by Captain Carney.

The statements of DeLoane and Saurbrey were taken in East Boston, following their capture in an East Boston rooming house, but in the presence of James A. Donnelly, of the Boston Police, and the fact that there were fifteen or sixteen officers present against the boys before taking of the alleged "confession" was questioned.

The men present, Inspector Donnelly said, were himself, District Attorney O'Brien, Police Commissioner Wilson, Captain Bailey and Hickey, Inspector Leary, Sergeant Sullivan, Special Officer (William) and Patterson, a police stenographer and Commissioner Wilson's secretary.

Just before the battle over the alleged confession started, Police Commissioner's murder garments were of force as exhibits and the three youths accused of the slaying met him and were with them.

DEATH GARMENTS SHOWN.

Bullet-riddled and powder and flame scorched the tiny clothing was held up to view of the jurors while Medical Examiner Timothy Leary sketched the gruesome details of his post-mortem.

Toothaker, in the prisoner's cage, gripped the sides of his chair and bowed far forward. DeLoane kept his head back and forth and Saurbrey, leaning forward, laid his chin in his hands.

Dr. Leary testified that, in his opinion, the pistol was pressed close against Comreau's clothing, which fired. There was a half-inch square print in the knitted jacket, four inches to the left of the middle line, and around the neck were brown powder stains and fire burns.

The bullet had gone through the pocket, through a gray cordless vest, through the pocket of a wool shirt and through woven underwear into the flesh entering the body between the seventh and eighth ribs, piercing the edge of the liver and scorching the cords, the main vessel for carrying blood from the heart.

Comreau, it was declared by Dr. Leary, died to death internally. There was a pool of blood in the left breast cavity, but the bloodstain, copious, unobscured, testified that he was unconscious when it came to rest between the tenth and eleventh ribs.

DESCRIPTIVE CAPTURE.

Proceeding Dr. Leary on the stand today was Special Officer James J. Driscoll of the East Boston station, who described the capture of DeLoane and Saurbrey in an East Boston rooming house almost opposite the station.

Officer Driscoll declared that DeLoane made a motion toward a gun in his vest pocket as the capture was taking place. Saurbrey was also found to have a gun in his vest pocket, the officer testified.

LAWYERS RISE IN TRIBUTE TO ANDERSON

Judge Anderson in Federal Court today was complimented for his impartiality in refusing to grant a continuance for the New England Oil Corporation. The attorney was allowed to stand in the record, though the judge had previously had overruled it and cleared Judge Anderson's conduct in the case.

IN RECEIVERSHIP CASE.

This action came in a hearing on a petition of creditors for extension of the receivership so as to guarantee payment of claims in full.

Judge Anderson took the case under advisement, pending filing of pleadings by opposing counsel.

Sherman H. Whipple, chief counsel for the creditors, moved to expunge the admission of probable delay several days ago by Bradley W. Palmer.

PRaised BY BILL.

When Judge Anderson denied the motion, Attorney Arthur D. Hill of the creditors' counsel arose and complimented the judge on the action which he had handled the case.

Judge Anderson, who had stood still open as to whether he would continue to sit in the case, said the doors for his office in favor of the claims of creditors which he had held down a month ago was that far as he was concerned.

COTTON FACTORS DISCUSS BIG CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

New York, June 10 (A.P.).—The American Cotton Manufacturers' Association and the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers convened in executive session today to discuss improvement in the cotton industry through co-operative effort.

Among those attending were C. F. Varnum, chairman of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, and J. C. Patterson, president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

Dr. Leary testified that, in his opinion, the pistol was pressed close against Comreau's clothing, which fired. There was a half-inch square print in the knitted jacket, four inches to the left of the middle line, and around the neck were brown powder stains and fire burns.

Hastens Suit

Woodville, N. H., June 10 (A.P.).—Judge Fred A. Jones of Lebanon, on trial here for second degree manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Mildred Presley of Lebanon on January 24, took the stand today. He detailed his movements on that night and denied he had been drinking.

He said Mrs. Presley and Mrs. Olga Vrehan had visited his office and while he was preparing for John B. Dimes of Littleton, a motion picture man, a copy of a court decision, Judge Jones said he left the women in his office while he drove his wife and daughter home from the theatre.

Later he brought in sandwiches and coffee for the women and Dimes and at the suggestion of Mrs. Presley the party went for a drive.

On the return trip about 1 a. m., the party stopped at a lunch wagon in Hanover for sandwiches. "That day" and coffee. On the way home via West Lebanon the accident occurred.

RUTH BRYAN TO MAKE CONTEST

Tacoma, W. Va., June 10 (A.P.).—The possibility of an election contest loomed in the Fourth Congressional District where Congressman William J. Thayer on incomplete returns led Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, for the Congressional nomination.

Charging irregularities in several counties, James M. Chasen, member of the campaign committee for Mrs. Owen, declared that a contest would be made of the returns if they did not show Mrs. Owen's nomination.

Mrs. Owen trailed today by 104 votes with only 10 precincts missing.

Chasen said he had been advised of irregularities in Monroe County. With three small precincts missing, Monroe County gives Thayer 1,244 votes and Mrs. Owen 423.

Congressman Thayer declared that he would welcome a recount in Monroe County or any other county the West forces desired.

SEARCH OF COTTAGES PROVES FUTILE

Falls to Reveal Any Trace of Missing Slayer of Clarence Peters

Trenton, N. J., June 10 (A. P.).—Police of New Jersey and Pennsylvania believed today that a letter found on a carrier pigeon which sent them across the banks of the Delaware River for Walter S. Ward, missing New York millionaire, was a hoax.

The police pointed out that the pigeon was found exhausted, although the message said it was sent from the shores of the Delaware and that anyone confined in a shack would probably not have an opportunity to obtain use of a carrier pigeon.

TRY TO TRACE BIRD.
Sergeant Cunningham, in charge of the searching troops, telegraphed the International Federation of Carrier Pigeon Association in an effort to identify the pigeon which was found at Bryn Athyn, a Philadelphia suburb.

The bird bore an identification tag with the number "IP 544-527," and the message it carried was written on brown wrapping paper, saying the writer was "held prisoner in a shack three miles above Trenton on the east side of the Delaware River."

It was signed "Ward," which was taken to mean the New York bakery magnate's son, who disappeared months ago.

COTTAGES UNOCCUPIED.
At first it was believed Ward might be a prisoner in any one of a number of small cottages and bungalows that line both shores of the river, but when the search showed no results police were inclined to the theory that the note was a practical joke. Many of these small houses are still untenanted, owing to the cold weather.

Major Mark O. Kimberling and Captain Lamb, in charge of the Wilburite police station, said search would be continued vigorously, but they placed their main reliance for a definite clue on the identification of the carrier pigeon.

Ward, son of George F. Ward, millionaire banker, was accused two years ago of the murder of Clarence Peters, former Harvard, Mass., mariner.

Trenton, N. J., June 10 (A.P.).—Ownership of the pigeon found exhausted at Bryn Athyn, Penn., was questioned today in connection with the case of Walter S. Ward, who has been traced to Kaler Brothers, pigeon fanciers, College Point, L. I.

State police said the pigeon was released with a flock at Danville, Va., last Sunday for a trial flight. The police believe the pigeon was found exhausted and killed to perpetrate the hoax that sent troops on a wild-goose chase for Ward.

WATCH BORDERS FOR PONZI

The Canadian and Mexican borders were guarded today in an effort to prevent the escape from the country of Charles Ponzi, one-time financial wizard, if he has not already slipped out.

The State Attorney General's office today asked the United States immigration authorities at Washington to order all guards on the northern and southern borders of the country to maintain a sharp watch for the missing money juggler.

STAY FOR TIME.
Meanwhile the belief was growing that Ponzi, wanted here to face charges in connection with his international coupon scheme, has fled the country, using his plan for delay in Suffolk Superior Court as a "stall" for time to adjust his affairs.

All efforts to locate Ponzi in Jacksonville, Fla., where he was last heard from, have failed. His Boston attorney, William M. Lewis and his attorney in Jacksonville, have heard nothing from him.

ORDERS FOR ARREST.
Orders for Ponzi's arrest have been issued to Florida's authorities.

Both Mrs. Benilde Mazzanti of No. 30 Gardner street, Allston, who supported him here, and Mrs. R. H. Mason of Jacksonville, who went surety for him when he left all of the law there in a land scheme, are in complete ignorance of his whereabouts.

YOUTH IS LURED TO DEATH BY COPIES

Long-Hunted Fugitive Is Recognized as He Honey-moons in Framingham

A trip to Boston, a happy evening in a Huntington avenue ballroom, and a chance meeting there with a debonair youth of 22, brought a suitor, a sweetheart and then a husband to a pretty Framingham girl.

But today she is sorrowing and lonely, for due to the keen eyes of Inspector Thomas Barnicle of the Framingham police her young husband is on his way to prison to answer charges of stealing and stripping twelve automobiles.

Known in Framingham as John J. Sullivan, the man whom she gave the girl, the youth is said by police to be Raymond J. Isenberry, who is under indictment on the automobile charges. Framingham authorities also charge him with perjury in securing a driver's license under the alleged false name.

Valuable automobile accessories found in a North Shore roadhouse gave the police the clue to Isenberry's alleged connection with the series of thefts, according to Police Inspector John of Salem.

All traces of him were lost, however, until Inspector Barnicle, armed with a meagre description, identified the newcomer. "Barnicle," it was learned that the attractions of the girl brought "Sullivan" to Framingham to live and work and when questioned, he himself disclosed his marriage with her before a justice of the peace last Saturday morning, according to the police.

GIRLS CALLED IN SPARKS CASE

Northampton, June 10.—In a surprise move, the State swore in five girls secretaries of Massachusetts Agricultural College today as future witnesses at the trial of Dr. Clarence I. Sparks and Miss Louise M. Zember, a nurse, in connection with the death of Susan Jessie Lyman, began in Superior Court.

The surprise witnesses are Miss Elizabeth R. Streeter and Miss Julia Kittredge, at one time fellow-workers with Miss Lyman, who was secretary to an M. A. C. professor.

A claim by the prosecution that Miss Lyman paid $250 to Dr. Sparks was also developed for the first time when District Attorney Thomas J. Hammond mentioned it in his opening address to the jury.

The doctor and nurse, said to have been partners in conducting a private hospital in Easthampton of which Dr. Sparks was generally known as the owner, are charged with illegally treating Miss Lyman by administering drugs or medicines, or by using instruments.

The district attorney declared the State will show that Miss Lyman drew $250 from a Northampton bank on November 2, 1925, and soon afterwards gave Dr. Sparks a check for $250.

FIRST SAW HER NOV. 2.
She went to the doctor's office for the first time on October 31, he said, but he quoted Dr. Sparks and Miss Zember as telling the investigating authorities that they first saw Miss Lyman at the hospital on November 2.

"Miss Lyman did not leave the hospital between November 2, the time of her second trip there, and November 12 when she was carried out in an ambulance to the city hospital later at another hospital," said Hammond.

George Reynolds, the first witness testified to seeing Miss Lyman at the hospital and talking with her on October 31.

ARRAIGN TWO IN RIOT

Trenton, N. J., June 10 (U.S.).—Two Princeton University students, W. Kemble, Mount Carmel, Pa., a junior, and Harry M. Walker, Chicago, a sophomore, appeared today before Judge E. M. Mott in connection with charges of instigating a riot.

The arraignment follows disturbances reported by police last night, in which more than 1,500 Princeton students were said to have taken part. Faculty members deny any pronounced disturbance took place.

According to the police, about 1,000 students allied the coming commencement by calling out the first department after they had learned of the riot and looting in the tower of Blair Hall.

When the apparatus arrived the students were reported to have looted it with chairs and benches and in the frenzy, Princeton officers arrested Kemble and Walker.

Later, police said, the students tried to rescue their classmates, but were quelled when an officer fired several shots in the air.

RUSSELL RAPS BRITISH BAN

Paris, June 10 (A.P.)—Charles Edward Russell, American Socialist and journalist, has written the British Home Secretary, Mr. William J. Joyce, criticizing the refusal to permit him to land at Plymouth.

Russell takes Mr. William to task for an alleged statement in the House of Commons that he would be permitted to visit the British ports if he promised not to visit the Irish Free State, and says he would be a "huddling alien" to risk himself "within the limits of what by a figure of speech is called the Irish Free State."

"Meanwhile," the letter concludes, "I feel I ought to acknowledge to the previous fight I have had from this incident on the results of 'Huddling Across the Sea,' Anglo-American solidarity, Anglo-American alliance and the Nordic bond."

Hub First City to Have Radio Fire Alarm

Boston was the first city in this country and perhaps in the world to receive a fire alarm by radio, according to George L. Fickett, addressing the annual two-day meeting of the Eastern Association, Superintendents of Fire and Police Telegraphs at fire alarm headquarters.

Mr. Fickett, superintendent of the Boston Fire Alarm Bureau, told how a warship steaming through the harbor discovered a fire in East Boston and sent out a wireless alarm, picked up by the fire boat and transmitted by telephone to fire headquarters.

More than 40 delegates from all over the East are attending the meetings.

REICHSTAG IN WILD SESSION

Berlin, June 10 (A.P.)—Bitterness broke loose in the Reichstag today when Chancellor Marx defended President Von Hindenburg against socialist attacks for his recent pro-Communist appointment of the former ruler's property.

The Reichstag's criticism was voiced by former Chancellor Herrmann Müller, who charged the President with violating the constitution in abandoning the non-partisan attitude prescribed for the chief executive.

Chancellor Marx retorted that the Reichstag could not approve the referendum for confirmation of the former ruler's property, set for June 28, because it violated the fundamental rights of private ownership. He demanded speedy action on the Government's compromise settlement bill which would create a special court for settlement of the ex-ruler's claims.

KOREANS MOB PRINCE'S BIER

Seoul, Korea, June 10 (A.P.)—Disorder growing out of the attempt of Korean students to protest against Japanese rule marked the severity of the first phase of the anti-Japanese movement in Korea today.

Although the disturbance was quelled and the funeral program went forward, Japanese authorities fear more trouble is in prospect before the magnificent ceremonies are completed.

While the funeral procession was moving solemnly through Seoul streets with the great coffin being carried from the palace to the funeral pavilion in a parade ground a mile away, students tried to circulate anti-Japanese literature against the ruler of the former realm. Proofs, police and guardsmen quickly intervened and arrested scores, but the march continued unimpeded. The crowds openly showed sympathy with the students. Reports place the number of arrests at 200.

Stones were hurled and many shop windows were broken. The wife of a secretary of the Japanese Governor-General, Admiral Baron Suo, was injured and was slightly injured.

DR. HO! WATSON! SHERLOCK IS MISSING!

Vanishes, and There is Not Even a Curl of Smoke Left as a Clue

The shadow of something eerie and sinister fell about, and even shaft, the police department today and there was a frantic checking up of Baker streets throughout the city and thorough combing of Watson families unable to give a good account of themselves—was to where was their great-grandfather born.

Sherlock Holmes is missing strangely from his "room" at No. 19 Davenport street, Boston, leaving not even a trail of pipe smoke or the faintest scratch of a needle to give a clue.

Not as much as a stray hypothesis or a rough theory could be found in his chambers where Sherlock, for some time now, has been wont to think his deepest thoughts and work out his most puzzling problems.

When the startling news of the disappearance was flashed to Scotland Yard—no, that's another outfit—in Pemberton square, the police superintendent, Mr. Crowley, carefully removed his shoes, cut the left wing of his suspenders into shaggy even pieces and lay face down on the floor to work out a plan.

Then he announced, in secret code, that there was every possibility of employing the hounds of the Detective, of Deville or of the Duesbury Crossing station in searching out the left Sherlock, who was dead in a light tweed suit and sailing hat.

The untiring Sherlock Holmes to seven years old and colored. In the belief that he may be investigating the mystery of the circus, a hunt will be started there.

ALDERMAN AND 3 COPS FACE HI-JACKING CHARGE

Oxbridge, N. Y., June 10 (A.P.)—District Attorney Ingram today began an investigation of an alleged hi-jacking scandal, said to involve three members of the Oxbridge police force and Alderman Charles Hubbard, chairman of the police committee. Alderman Hubbard and the policemen, Louis Dione, William Shilby, and Israel Gorman, have been in their resignations to Mayor Westbrook, but that official would make no comment except to say he had the resignations and the details would "all come out later."

From available information, it appears that two bootleggers accused the four officials of hi-jacking.

$1,000,000 Factory Fire

New York, June 10.—Five firemen were injured or overcome by smoke when fire swept the factory of Fred Laverrier Company. The damage was estimated at $1,000,000.

'GRANNY' TAKES A 'BABY' TO RAISE

"GIRL" OF 72 ROBS CRADLE Mrs. Roy Hinton Matthews and her blushing bridegroom on their honeymoon in Newport News, Va. She is 72 and he's her third husband. He is 19, and she his first wife. They both say it was "love at first sight."

HOLD FOUR WOMEN IN GYPSY WARFARE

Conducting an intensive campaign against gypsy "fortune tellers," the police arrested four women at the Sullivan square playground, Charleston, charged with larceny and larceny from the person.

Plain clothes men, the police claim, paid three of the women $1 each to have their fortune told and a fourth woman was accused of stealing $15 from Patricia Hagan of Charleston, while he was having his fortune told.

CHURCH THIEF STEALS GOLD WATCH AND CHAIN

Pittsfield, June 10.—Believing no one would ever enter the sacred edifice as a thief, Joseph Shirr, who is superintending the installation of a new pipe organ in Trinity Church, left his gold watch and chain in a vest pocket while he, with other mechanics, entered the organ loft. When he returned his watch, chain and money were missing.

DOTY FACES TRIAL JUNE 16 AS FRENCH MUTINEER

Damascus, Syria, June 10 (A.P.)—The trial of Bennett J. Doty of Memphis for desertion from the French Foreign Legion in Syria, under the name of Givens Carey, has been definitely fixed for June 16.

Jilted, Kills Self

Buffalo, N. Y., June 10.—Russell Van Dyke, 22, of Hamilton, Ont., committed suicide when his sweet heart, Ellen Curtis, 22, threatened to leave him.

NEW PROBE IN OSAGE KILLINGS

Lawrence, Okla., June 10 (A.P.)—State and Federal officials today turned to the collection of additional evidence in the investigation of Oklahoma's Osage Indian country "reign of terror" in which seventeen persons were killed, following the state's victory yesterday in the trial of the Osage murder cases.

The prosecution's theory came when Ernest Hurkhar, who had been on trial for more than two weeks, pleaded guilty to a charge of killing W. E. Smith, Fairfax Harshbarger.

W. E. Smith, wealthy oilman and uncle of Hurkhar, now faces trial with John Hanner, farmer, for the killing of Smith. He is known as "king of the Osage hills" and is alleged to be the "master mind" in the conspiracy. Smith, his cousin, and a white husband, were killed in an explosion which wrecked the Smith home four years ago.

Hurkhar will be sentenced June 21. Trial of the others will start September 26.

Hurkhar said he wished to plead guilty, "because it is the honest and honorable thing for me to do." He said Federal agents had obtained a confession from him through use of an "electric chair."

3 INJURED DURING KLAN RIOT AT TENT MEETING

Hartford City, Ind., June 10 (A.P.)—Laws, J. King, J. J. King, George Het, and two others were seriously injured in a riot at a tent meeting of the Ku Klux Klan in Hartford City, Ind., today.

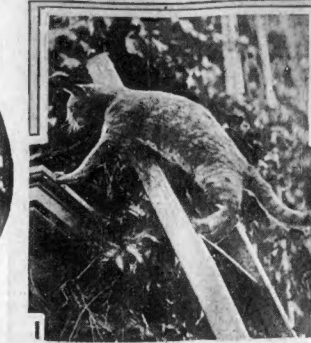

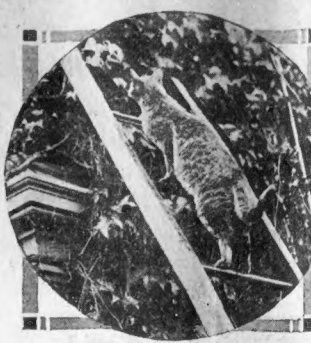

The disturbance was attributed to Klan and anti-Klan feeling. King has condition of the brain, and his condition is grave. Joe Burns and John McCook, said to be Klansmen, are in a hospital. Three others were killed.

State Convention

New York, June 10.—Democratic leaders decided to hold the state convention in Syracuse, N. Y., on September 27 and 28.

The state convention will be held in New York City.

TWO-WAY CAT BRINGS FAME TO MELROSE FIREMEN

FAVORS SMALL FAMILIES

Petty is pretty busy riding to fires on the ladder truck and can't be bothered with too many children. So, unlike other cats who have litter of kittens, she has only one at a time. So she's no ordinary kitty.

HERE SHE IS IN ACTION

Petty long ago learned this trick, but there are other cats that can climb a ladder. Finally she has learned to do the ladder both ways, and where is there another cat to compete with her? She knows a lot about fires, too.

PETTY IN REPOSE

The boys at Melrose fire station had to wait three years before they could claim "the championship for this pussy, but now they are ready for all comers."

MELLON'S DAUGHTER HAS REACHED EUROPE

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 10 (A.P.)—David K. Tate, Jr. and his bride, the former Alva Mellon, daughter of Andrew Mellon, American Secretary of the Treasury, were passengers on the United States liner President Harding, arriving here today. They proceeded to Cherbourg, whence they will go to Paris.

ENGLISH LIBERALS ARE NEARER TO PEACE

London, June 10 (A.P.)—Four feet the quarrel between the Liberal Federation has been much diminished, if not wholly removed. This is due to the formulation of a resolution for submission to the federal meeting which, while not presenting unshaken confidence in Lord Oxford as leader of the party, declared it is the desire "to retain the cooperation of all Liberals" in the party's political work.

NEW ROLES FOR DUNCAN GIRLS

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor, Universal Service

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—(If a little plan that I heard whispered at Universal City materialized, Vivian and Regatta Duncan, otherwise known as the Duncan Sisters, may be playing Topsy and Eva in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Universal has held up the filming of the Harriet Beecher Stowe classic for so many weeks, and hesitated for so long in naming any actress for these two famous roles, that I suspected something was up the sleeve of the casting director, even before I heard this extraordinary rumor.

I say this in view of a test that Arnold, the Spanish dancer, had taken for Topsy. I hear she made a gorgeous Topsy with her dark Spanish eyes. The contract was all but signed for the role when there was a sudden change in plans. This change may or may not be due to a desire on the part of Universal to sign the Duncans as these two famous fictional characters.

MORE GERMANS ARE COMING TO AMERICA

Washington, June 10 (A.P.)—Emigration from Germany is on the increase, with industry and agriculture being most of the workers. Reports to the Commerce Department today contained preliminary figures showing that 62,443 persons left that country in 1925, as compared with 58,329 in 1924.

SAINT-GAUDENS TO BRING 250 PAINTINGS

Pittsburgh, June 10 (A.P.)—Homer Saint-Gaudens, director of the arts at Carnegie Institute, today notified his office upon his arrival in New York from Europe, that he had arranged to bring more than 250 paintings from sixteen nations for a 1-2 international exhibition at the institute this fall.

To the previous list of European nations represented at the forum have been added Norway, Hungary and Romania, he said.

2 HELD FOR DEATH OF GEN. FLORES IN MEXICO

Hermosillo, Sonora, Mexico, June 10 (A.P.)—The hunt for the alleged slayers of the late General Angel Flores, Mexican soldier, ended here with the arrest of Manuel Chigaren, a prominent figure, and his woman companion, Blanca Rooley, a French woman.

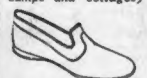

March 31 of what doctors declared was a slow poison. The accused deny guilt.

John Barrymore returns from the studio scene in August. He had been abandoned because he is too much like John, while Villon opens up a new avenue of thought and imagination. Talking in print, one thinks of "If I Were King," and Robert Louis Stevenson's book, "A Lodging For a Night." Neither of them, Mr. Barrymore said, would be used as a story theme, but an original scenario is to be in collaboration with him. Naturally Barrymore will have a wealth of material, having had a hero worshiper in the past.

RICARDO CORTEZ is back home again. And I say home because I am quoting him. It could give the intonation in his voice as I write these words, California could use it as an advertisement to boost her popularity as a place to live and grow healthy. Mr. Cortez, in short, is back to the land where he belongs, and good dispositions and doesn't care who knows it.

After a rest of Ricardo Cortez, a few weeks he will get ready to play the leading male role in "Captain Bassett," a Frank Lloyd production to be made for Famous Players-Lasker. He has just finished "Borrowers of Stars" with David Warfield, and expects himself as willing to change from a Cornell baron to a pirate, although he likes both roles.

HERE ARE EDEN
ANSWERS!

The Boston Evening American to-day presents the first of a series of answers to the questions asked of Miss Edna Eden, mystic, who is now appearing at the New Columbia Theatre.

Questions mailed to the Boston Evening American will be answered by Miss Eden.

Edna Eden:—You seem in doubt as to the advisability of selling the plan. I would not advise it, as business will improve during the summer.

Albert D. Scott:—While you have the qualifications for becoming a fighter you have not the necessary skill-in-the-ring. I would advise you to remain in your present position.

Mr. G. Davis:—At present financial conditions will not permit you to go. However, during the latter part of the summer you will be in a position to go.

Louise:—Your question reads: "On one with my friend, is everything going to all right?" Yes, Louise, everything is "going" to all right.

Dorothy:—You are asking if W. V. is intentions are serious. Hadn't you better wait for W. V. to tell you so himself?

Alfred:—You should be living with your father. You are young, energetic, and full of life. You should be with your father and not with a boy.

W. A. L.:—You are not taking full advantage of the training you are giving your son. This is a thorough lack of confidence in yourself. You have the ability. Do as you see fit.

A. J. B.:—Would not advise you attempting to go in business for yourself this year. It would prove disastrous. Wait until the spring of 1927 and you will have a much better opportunity.

Walter:—The main reason for his changing was because he always found you waiting. Seek other diversions. He is not worth waiting for.

M. C.:—You are a problem that I cannot help you solve. You alone must solve the problem.

JACK:—You seem very much in doubt as to whether or not you will make this pay. Nothing ventured, nothing gained. Have more confidence in yourself and try it.

MRS. IDA:—You have had rather a hard time. Never mind, upon your own. You are a strong and in the end you will win.

ANNA:—The building of a man's character lies with his home surroundings and his parents. There is no question as to why the answer to your question. Encourage him to do his best.

John:—You ask who stole your watch. One of the two men that helped to get you into a taxi last Saturday night.

Edna:—You had better ask your self this question: Do I care for father or not. It appears very much that you are giving too much thought to your father's money. Love him, love him.

R. M. R.:—Your friend's love for you was dead quite some time before he married that other woman. Inasmuch as she is not at fault, don't you think the nice thing for you to do is to forget the episode and go on with your life.

Excuse me, I am a man, keep your questions in the American, you are interesting in the American.

CREATOR OF BRITISH

RUBBER "TRUST" DIES

London, June 10 (AP)—James Stevenson, 33 years old, author of the British rubber restriction scheme, died today of heart disease.

He was managing director of John Walker & Sons, Ltd., distillers. As chairman of the rubber investigation committee, he drafted the plan which, it is charged, created a British rubber monopoly.

During the war he served brilliantly in various capacities, starting in 1915 as director of area organization in the munitions industry.

POPE HONORS FR. MAFFEI

Worcester, June 10 (A.P.)—Rev. Thomas M. O'Leary, Bishop of the Springfield diocese, announced that Rev. Gioacchino Maffei, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, has been made a domestic prelate of the Holy Father, which carries the title of Monsignor by Pope Pius XI. Fr. Maffei was recently knighted by the King of Italy.

SEARCH ON CAPE COD FOR HOLBROOK GIRL

Holbrook, June 10—A search has been instituted all over eastern Massachusetts and on Cape Cod for 13-year-old Dorothy Keating, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Keating of Worcester, who has been missing from home and Holbrook Junior High School since Friday afternoon, when she was seen near the railroad station. While she is but 13, she looks much older, weighing about 110 pounds. She wore a light coat, tan shoes and a light colored dress when she was seen last. She wore no hair.

CANTON WANTS PEACE TO GET FOREIGN CASH

Canton, June 10 (A.P.)—Frustrated by the approach of enemies from the North and strife with its Communist elements, the Cantonese government is attempting to settle the year-long strife against the British in order to raise foreign loans to meet its military and civil expenditures.

What's Shrinking Bathing Suits' Final Goal?

Milwaukee, June 10 (A.P.)—The public demands it, and so manufacturers are producing bathing suits of just enough material to "get by" censors, according to D. F. Byrne, president of the National Knitted Under-Wear Association, which opened its convention here today.

Each year, he said, bathing suits "become less and less" and the question arises, "What is the bathing suit coming to?"

MIND READING BROADCAST

There are a number of reasons why the World Bank is not a good example of a good bank. First, the World Bank is not a bank in the traditional sense of the word. It is a multilateral development bank, which means that it is owned by a number of member countries. This means that the bank is not controlled by a single entity, but rather by a group of countries. This can lead to a lack of clear leadership and a slow decision-making process. Second, the World Bank has a long history of being criticized for its lending practices. It has been accused of favoring wealthy countries and of imposing conditions on its loans that are often seen as unfair or excessive. Finally, the World Bank has a reputation for being bureaucratic and slow to respond to the needs of its borrowers. All of these factors can contribute to a lack of confidence in the bank and a reluctance to borrow from it.

Children Cry For Fletcher's
CASTORIA

When Baby Complains.

There are many ways a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity in his system. He may cry, fret, be restless, and have a disturbed sleep. He may be irritable and impatient, and have a disturbed health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry. Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, refusal, in these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but Castoria is a safe remedy and a baby should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 50 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmless nature and the good results achieved.

And remember this, Castoria is a remedy of such a ready and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a babe.

Fletcher's Castoria gives relief in

MUSSOLINI HIDES AWAY 2
DAYS WITH FAMILY

Rome, June 10 (A.P.)—Benito Mussolini has succeeded in one of his most difficult tasks he has undertaken since he assumed the reins of the Fascist government. He has avoided the spotlight and escaped the signature of his admirers for two whole days.

On Sunday morning the Premier decided he would like to give his wife a treat of a few hours with his wife and his children. He felt that he ought to be able to make the pilgrimage in the simple capacity of husband and father.

Leaving orders to maintain strict secrecy with regard to his whereabouts, Benito climbed behind the wheel of his black-covered automobile and, accompanied only by his chauffeur, set out along the road to Capri, in the province of Porti.

He covered the distance, about 250 miles, in a little more than six hours.

Monday morning the Premier, accompanied by his wife, sped to Florence, where they visited their daughter, Edna, at the Institute of Poggio Imperiale. The party had a simple lunch at a country inn, spending the family goody. Mussolini then put on his goggles and drove back to Rome.

FARM RELIEF
'AIDS' BRITAIN

Washington, June 10 (A.P.)—Carrying forward his fight against the Mollath-Hausen corn belt plan of farm relief, Senator Fessenden, Ohio, has added to his list of objections the charge that it is favorable to British but not to American interests.

"It is easy to understand why a great economist of Great Britain should endorse this plan," Senator Fessenden told the Senate. "Great Britain is in the line of the world's food supply."

He charged that, if enacted, the Mollath-Hausen plan would deprive the world of the great corn belt of the United States and that British and cheap food would be transferred to the United States.

Every year—

thousands of women seek their advice . . .

SPECIALISTS on diet and nutrition. Experts who have made the study of foods a life work. Each year more and more women turn to them for advice on the feeding of their families.

It is because these authorities know the needs of growing children that they are so widely consulted. They know too how foods should look, how they should taste and how they should be served.

That is why we chose leading food authorities to help us perfect White Rose Bread. Their advice, together with the most scientific baking skill, has produced for your table a finer, more delicious and more nourishing loaf.

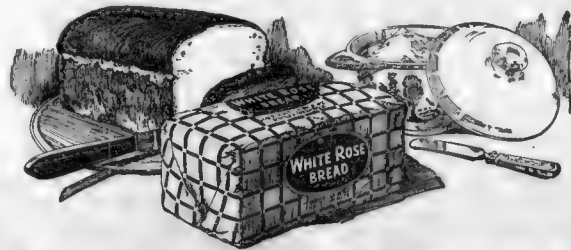

White Rose Bread is made of the best and purest ingredients—all tested in a special testing kitchen. You will delight in the firm, light texture of the white slices; in their sweet, appetizing flavor. You will say, with so many other women, "I have never bought bread like this before!"

Twice each day White Rose is baked and delivered fresh to your grocer. Morning or afternoon you can get loaves just a few hours out of the oven. Order it today. Massachusetts Baking Company.

When General Washington

said farewell to his officers in 1783, the farewell dinner was served at the Fraunces Tavern in New York. From this Tavern, famous now for a century and a half both for its cuisine and for its historical interest, comes a recipe for a specially delicious pudding—"Pudding Fraunces." This recipe will be wrapped in your loaf of White Rose Bread on Friday. It is one of a series of hitherto unpublished recipes from leading chefs throughout America.

Berlenbach and Stribling Both Express Confidence as to Fight's Outcome

STIRLING

BERLENBACH

NEW YORK, June 10 (I.N.S.).—Both champion and challenger were in a confident mood today when questioned about the outcome of tonight's battle for the world's light heavyweight championship.

"The championship will move south to Dixie tonight," said Young Stribling, the Georgia challenger. "I will surely defeat Paul Berlenbach. I expect to knock him out. Risko knocked him down three times and should have finished him. I'll knock him down and, if he gets up, I'll finish him."

However, Berlenbach's statement was just as confident. He figured to win by heavy punching.

"I still will be champion when the fight is over," he declared. "I may not knock him out, but I will give him a lacing he won't forget in a hurry. Stribling is not as tough as some of the fighters I have met and defeated. I will dull his speed with body punches and the rest will be easy. Watch me from the tenth round on."

NO-NOX

MOTOR FUEL

STOPS KNOCKS

Turns Mountains into Mole hills

For years the carbon knocks, clicks, pings or detonation in automobile engines have been a menace to motor efficiency and a sore spot to the motorist. GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel has turned the old time carbon bugaboo into an asset, in fact it has put carbon to work.

No-Nox and Carbon are Power Twins

Compression is power—Carbon adds compression—No-Nox withstands compression and the combination gives wonderful motor efficiency.

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel not only withstands the high compression of the modern automobile engine—but also the added higher compression caused by carbon deposits on the walls and piston head which increases with the age of the car—clicks and knocks are eliminated—greater efficiency is accomplished—followed by more power and greater mileage.

This Guarantee goes with it

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline—that it contains no dope of any kind—that the color is for identification only—and will not heat in summer driving.

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is priced three cents per gallon higher than ordinary gasoline—and is worth it.

A ROXBURY man has his own razor for Sunday. His wife uses it for sharpening pencils the rest of the week.

A NOTHER fellow was so anxious to get his shaves on the Sabbath that he made his daughter marry a barber.

EVERY Sunday morning he comes around and gives his father-in-law the once over.

HIS daughter is very unhappy with her husband but he won't let her get a divorce for teneorial reasons.

HE'S waiting for the grandchildren to come so that he can have a lot of little shavers around the house.

INSTEAD of toys, he's going to make the children play with scissors and razor blades.

THEY can blow all the bubbles they want provided they use shaving soap.

have been a terrible moment for Louise when she realized that one called Volney's name before kissing the man who was her husband.

"You got me wrong, I was just saying that I was all about Louise's shoulders."

"You looked pretty light," although her heart pounded furiously. "Where's Mr. Volney?"

"He's in the kitchen," said the CAT. It acted strangely on the way back. He had been in the kitchen, but he had been in the lake. I happened to catch him leaving the club today and I was in the kitchen. I was in the back here so I decided to come with him."

"Louise managed to say. By this time Grant Avallon had turned on the table lamp. Volney saw Louise first as he came through the door.

"Hello, Mrs. Avallon. What brought you over?"

"I was in the program."

Volney said something about not being in the program. Louise was a very uncomfortable look.

with him and her husband. A Russian woman, who said Grant's eyes made her believe that she had deceived him. At other times, she caught a sharp bright giant in the gray eyes. The telegram was her only excuse. But since it had been sent, it had probably been delivered, and she had to go home. She must be first to the door. The delivery slip would doubtless be there.

But it was not there. Grant Avalon saw her eyes rove about in search of "There was no telegram," he said sharply. "Shall we take it to court?"

"No," she gasped. His forty-two-year-old composure routed her twenty-year-old passion. "I will write him. I will have pumped roma."

"You have pumped roma and spoiled my roma," she said. "It is not possible that that is all I mean to you. We shall see."

"I love them. I love herself into her husband's arms. She drew away from her."

Senator Cummins Latest Casualty in Ranks of World Court Backers

It is an imposing obituary list. The best Republican families in Washington are getting in on it.

Albert J. Cummins of Iowa is the latest casualty in the national referendum on Senators who voted the United States into the "World Court" of the League of Nations.

Smith W. Brookhart beat him in the Iowa Republican primary by a tremendous margin.

How much more testimony does President Coolidge need to convince him that it was a MISTAKE to line up Administration Senators to vote for this foreign tribunal?

The Cummins-Brookhart contest was a perfect test of World Court sentiment in the Middle West. It happens that both men were members of the United States Senate on January 27 of this year. On that day Cummins voted for the World Court, Brookhart voted against it.

Since then the Senate has decided that Daniel F. Steck, a Democrat, and not Brookhart, was rightfully elected Senator from Iowa in 1924. In the vote outvoting Brookhart, politics played their part, Democrats in the Senate being joined by Old Guard Republicans who preferred a Democrat to Brookhart, a La Follette Progressive.

Brookhart, deposed, turns around and faces Cummins, top for renomination, and defeats him. Thus the net result of the Old Guard's strategy is NOT TO PUT STECK IN BROOKHART'S PLACE, BUT TO PUT STECK IN CUMMINS' PLACE.

So it was that Iowa voters came to have their choice of World Court and anti-World Court, and chose the latter.

You will hear much of farm relief as the dominant factor in the Iowa election.

Brookhart could not have been elected on a farm relief platform alone. It is true that he is for the bill of Congressman Hagen of Iowa. That measure is the official Iowa platform, perfected and endorsed at the Corn Belt conference at Des Moines January 28 of this year. The Hagen bill appropriates some hundreds of millions of Federal money to pay the price of Iowa corn and other leading farm products.

BUT CUMMINS IS ALSO FOR THE HAGEN BILL, AND EMPHASIZED THE FACT IN HIS ENTIRE CAMPAIGN. HAGEN HAS SUPPORTED CUMMINS.

In talking farm relief, Brookhart had no valid argument against CUMMINS. The best Brookhart could do was to make the lame argument that voters must disregard Cummins' personal views and defeat him as a rebuke to the Administration for withholding farm relief.

Such talk doesn't win an election, for wasn't Cummins standing for the Hagen bill and so doing all any Iowa Senator could do to help the Iowa farmer?

Brookhart won the election by emphasizing the real, the clean-cut difference between him and Cummins. Cummins is for going back into Europe's politics. Brookhart is for staying out.

Here is the people's verdict, SO FAR, on World Court Senators:

1—On April 13, in the Illinois Republican primary, Senator William B. McKinley, who had voted for the World Court, LOST by 150,000 votes to Colonel Frank L. Smith, who ran exclusively on an anti-World Court platform.

2—On May 4, in the Indiana Republican primary, Senators James E. Watson and Arthur R. Robinson, who had voted AGAINST the World Court, WON by majorities of 50,000 and 65,000 respectively.

3—On May 18, in the Republican primary in Pennsylvania, Senator George Wharton Pepper, who had voted FOR the World Court, LOST by 100,000 votes to Senator Robert N. Stansfield, who had voted FOR the World Court, LOST by 11,000 votes.

4—On May 21, in the Oregon Republican primary, Senator Albert J. Cummins, who had voted FOR the World Court, LOST by 70,000 votes to Smith W. Brookhart, who had voted AGAINST IT.

AND THE TALE IS YET TO RUN. Other World Court Senators are soon to face their voters: In Wisconsin, Senator Lenroot, who managed the World Court fight in the Senate; in Massachusetts, Senator Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Senator Shortridge in California.

In many respects Senator Cummins will be a loss to Congress. He is of sound mind, a progressive conservative of the best type, an elder statesman with a very distinguished record of public service. The country could not afford to lose him if he had not been wrong on the one great issue on which American Senators must be right—AMERICA FIRST, LAST AND ALL THE TIME, AND NO INTERMEDDLING IN EUROPEAN POLITICS.

Judge Dillon

"Opposition" to His Appointment Not Up to the Advance Notices

The Governor of the Commonwealth, his latest appointee to the bench of the Superior Court and the honorable members of the Executive Council are alike to be congratulated upon the Council's unanimous confirmation of the David F. Dillon appointment.

Three district attorneys, a city solicitor and the president of the Hampden County Bar Association performed their duty to the bar and the community by testifying before the Lieutenant-Governor and the Council that Judge Dillon possesses that happy combination of learning, integrity, industry, patience, courtesy and unflinching temper which Massachusetts requires in its magistrates. There was every evidence that William H. Brooks, Esq., favoring the appointment on behalf of his association, voiced the sentiment of a great majority of the attorneys of Western Massachusetts.

A tempest in a teapot just about describes the seven-day hullabaloo that was worked up over his appointment, and the best that its promoters can hope for is that it may be speedily forgotten.

Will It Cae to This?

By O. P. Williams

THE longer the prohibition force runs the more snipers and spies are demanded to bolster up its failure.

The cartoonist has not exaggerated what we may expect if this tendency is not soon resisted.

Under the common law a man's home was his castle, but now it threatens to become merely a focus of suspicions.

Not only do the ultra drags urge volunteer spying by neighbors, but it is further proposed to employ local constables and turn them loose with Federal powers at the munificent salary of a dollar a year—a direct invitation to blackmail.

In November a number of States and some cities will vote on how they like this sort of thing.

All the people should be allowed to express their will.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

PEOPLES can't bear Elwin.

"Conceded young squirt!" they cry. "Always shouting off his head. Can't tell him a thing. If you try to, he insults you. Throws his college education in your face. Of course his parents were partly to blame. He was the only boy to learn a little sense. But, indeed, he gets worse every day. And, after all, what is he? Nothing but a renegade. They say he's written couplet stories for one of those high brow magazines. What? That? You think he'd written the whole encyclopedia? What? That? Wonder how they get that way?"

Filled With Hate

Elwin gets that way for a number of reasons which few people understand. They see the superficial, surface manifestations, the rudeness and conceit. But there's something under the surface which few realize. Elwin was a honest, sickly little boy. He had inherited a frail physique and his mother's cooling indifference toward weakness. She would not let her darling play with rough, common, little boys. If he drew weary she fussed over him. If he became frightened she soothed him and rebuked all those who had disturbed him. If he was peevish, the whole house was upset.

Yet in spite of all this care, Elwin found that other boys were stronger and braver, that little, stout, resourceful, more attractive. No amount of maternal solicitude could save him from their jeers and stinging criticism. They called him a "sissy" and "little-lady" and "coward."

Elwin hated the little girls who, queer, curious ways, hated the mother who protected him from them. He began to hate the little girls who, queer, curious ways, hated the mother who protected him from them. He began to hate the little girls who, queer, curious ways, hated the mother who protected him from them.

Forgets Old Self

Life was sweet to Elwin. He Elwin, like all other little animals, began to grow a shell which would protect him from that cruelty. HE BEGAN TO BE A SNAKE.

He began to assume the importance for himself which others denied him. And in time Elwin grew a shell which almost fooled himself.

and quite fooled the world.

But underneath that shell Elwin is still a sensitive, unattractive little boy. For long spaces of time he can forget that. His talent in the brilliant, haughty Elwin has grown to such proportions that he rarely remembers that old Elwin. But when he is confronted by the charm and courage and intelligence of some vital people, that old Elwin rises like a shivery gray ghost and nags him.

That's why Elwin is a concentered young squirt. Psychologists call that shell which Elwin has grown a "PERSONALITY." We see many such defenses.

The roaring indifference of the bully is often a defense which he has raised that you may not suspect his true cowardice.

The careless, brittle chatter of some assembly hall woman is often a defense which covers a broken heart.

The malicious bitterness of another woman is a blind eye to a hungry, lonely spirit which has been denied the love and romance which she needs to live.

The elaborate propriety of a certain woman is an inner machine that would make a respectable sewer drain.

The bigoted snarl of a reformer covers a hidden rage against the red-blooded joys of stronger men who build their life on their own neurotic nature.

Defense—hundreds of them—try to cover, an inward covering. Maybe if we remembered that were only walls we would be a little more merciful to those poor souls who build them.

INSTITUTIONS OF OUR CHILDHOOD GOING

By DR. FRANK CRANE

ONE by one the dear institutions of our childhood disappear.

They tell us there was no such person as William Tell, and "there ain't no Santa Claus any more."

These horrible revelations, however, pale before a law that has recently been passed in Pennsylvania declaring that the roller towel must go.

There has been a rule some time prohibiting its use in public places—in industrial plants, hotels, and so on. Now they say that even a private family cannot have one. What are we coming to!

We cannot all use the same drinking cup, to say nothing of having the same toothbrush. And our personal liberty is otherwise becoming daily more circumscribed.

What innocent, bucolic and pure pleasure we once had in coming downstairs every morning, washing in the rain barrel with soft soap, and reaching out appealingly for the roller towel! We did not object to it if it was dirty. There had been twenty-five or thirty people already who had used it that morning, and who are we that we should object?

Now we must take the roller towel (that is, if we live in Pennsylvania), clean it (if that is humanly possible), fold it, and lay it away.

Who is responsible for all this? Probably the washwoman's union decided that the existence of the roller towel was seriously limiting the size of the wash and thus cutting down their profits. By eliminating it and substituting the individual drying rack people would be forced to spend more money for washing. Hence wages would go up and prosperity would show its smiling face once more in our midst.

SUPERSTITIOUS FEARS RUIN PEACE OF MIND

Something is going to happen. You are sure of it for you "had a bad dream last night" and it has haunted you ever since.

Always the "something going to happen" is something unpleasant, eh?

You would not stand for it to be called superstitious. But you get little impressions—sometimes it is the weather, sometimes a wild dream, sometimes the unfortunate remarks of friends who are thoughtless—and that sets you off immediately and you shiver with dread.

You have always interested yourself in "signs."

You say that you don't believe in them of course; but you never fail to acquaint yourself with all the old sayings of queer people or the sooth-sayers.

You don't believe in fortune tellers, but you occasionally go to one "just for fun."

And then you are always looking for the "black-eyed misanthropist" who is your enemy and every black-eyed person you meet is a possible enemy.

It is a sign of weak mentality when you are influenced by the third-story day or the "wrong side of the bed" or the "you leave it your own."

This Is Herr Jolly Starving Himself

He Went Without Food for 44 Days. People Paid to See Him

THIS GERMAN GENTLEMAN, HERR JOLLY, IN HIS GLASS CASE, BEAT ALL RECORDS BY GOING WITHOUT FOOD FOR FORTY-FOUR DAYS. LEARN SOMETHING FROM HIM.

Many are the ways of earning money and fame. Champion pie eaters make a little money, get little fame and much indigestion.

Champion beefsteak eaters are apt to die of apoplexy later.

Here is the world's champion faster, whose name is really Jolly, but whose occupation is rather sad. Enclosed in a glass case, in a German restaurant, he went forty-four days, having announced in advance that he would do so, breaking all the world's known fasting records, and incidentally collecting fifty pennies, about twelve cents, from those that came to look.

A foolish way to earn money and glory, but we learn from this man.

HE HAD TO CONSERVE HIS VITALITY, so he wears dark glasses. They protect him from the strain that the bright lights of the restaurant would put upon his eyes. Every little helps. His blood would have had to supply energy that his nerves would require to meet the eyestrain. He would use part of the actual tissue of his body to create that energy, since he was eating no nourishing food.

Moral: CONSERVE YOUR STRENGTH for real work.

Also observe that while he ate no food, Herr Jolly DRANK AS MUCH WATER AS HE CHOSE. He went forty-four days without food, but could not have gone a week without water, and at the end of the first few days, with no water, his body would have been in horrible condition, like a decaying corpse. Water purifies us, through the pores of the skin and otherwise, and is the most important thing in our lives, except one, WHICH IS AIR.

Jolly has proved that you can go FORTY-FOUR DAYS without food.

It is known that you can go about a WEEK without water and survive. No man that ever lived could go FIVE MINUTES WITHOUT AIR.

Remember that, keep your windows open at night, make it a habit to breathe deeply. And as you go through life, keep up the walls of your chest, ribs and breastbone, as though there were a string attached to the ceiling to hold them up.

If your muscles hold the ribs and breastbone up, off of your lungs, you breathe easily, expanding and contracting the lungs without effort. If you allow ribs and breastbone to press down on your lungs, every time you take a deep breath your lungs must lift the ribs, which is an added effort. In waking hours KEEP YOUR RIBS FROM pressing on your lungs. You can do it.

Learn from this starving German gentleman also that human nature is strong. Thousands that would look at a hungry child and not give him child twelve cents, paid twelve cents to see this man starving, without compulsion.

Women brought him flowers—you see them in the picture, and gazed long at him. What do you suppose is the matter with such gazers?

Learn also that the body you inhabit is, as the Bible says, "fearfully and wonderfully made."

It can stand almost anything—dreadful heat at the Equator, fifty degrees below zero at the North Pole. But it cannot stand LACK OF AIR in the lungs. If the pores of your body were glued from head to foot, or the pores of your skin closed up in some other way, you would die that day.

That happened long ago at a festival procession in Rome, when children's bodies were glued to represent little angels, with the best of intentions, of course.

Several died. Leonardo da Vinci, the great artist, was the only one with brains enough to realize what the trouble was. He took one of the children home, removed the deadly enameled that closed the pores and saved that child's life.

Drink pure water, avoid bootleg whiskey, breathe deeply and live long.
